Recommendations

- Review pricing strategies for high-sales products with relatively low profitability.
- Expand inventory planning for consistently high-performing products to reduce stock shortages.
- Replicate successful sales strategies from the West region across lower-performing regions.
- Develop targeted loyalty programs for the highest-value customers identified in the dashboard.
- Optimize discount policies for products where higher discounts are reducing profit margins.
- Focus future marketing investments on the Consumer segment while identifying opportunities to grow Corporate and Home Office customers.
- Continue monitoring regional performance through periodic dashboard reviews to identify emerging trends.
- Use customer and product performance insights to support data-driven inventory, pricing, and promotional decisions.
